

What is a PAT test certificate?

A PAT testing certificate should be provided as a record of testing by the person(s) carrying out the tests. It forms a legal document that verifies all reasonable steps have been carried out to check for the electrical safety of all equipment, and can also detail the actual results for all tests carried out.

If you require more help, please contact us at <https://www.seaward.com/gb/enquiry/>.